

Foundation Training Job Description

Grade	F1
Placement	Simulation and General Surgery
The type of work to expect and learning opportunities	This post offers an exciting opportunity to gain training and experience in clinical simulation and medical education. The post involved the designing and delivering clinical simulation-based teaching with opportunities to contribute to in-situ simulation in clinical areas are available. Exposure to care of surgical patients, pre, intra and post operatively. Management of the acutely ill surgical patient.
Where the placement is based	Medical Education department for simulation element of post and the department of Surgery for clinical element
Educational and Clinical Supervisor(s) for the placement	Mr Mike Gale
Main duties of the placement	This is a teaching attachment with potential to gain experience of a wide range of procedural skills including many core procedures. Duties include ward-based tasks such as patient assessment, review and management of post operative pain and fluid balance.
Typical working pattern in this placement	Regular ward-based work which includes evening and night shifts. Simulation shifts are to be integrated into the rota and will be weekday day shifts.
Employer	York Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

It is important to note that this description is a typical example of your placement and may be subject to change.